

Your School Library

Designing the Future

Join the folks at yourschoollibrary.org for their third international online event. The theme is Designing the Future and will be live from October 16 through November 8.

The theme covers design of schools, design of school libraries, design of learning and 2020 scenarios. Expect a star-studded line-up of presenters.

If you are interested in where schools are headed and what issues are framing education in the C21 then don't miss this important opportunity.

Feedback from the first two events has been very positive so take this opportunity to join colleagues from all corners of the globe as they discuss these important topics.

Facilitated by an international team of experts, including Sandra Lee and Information Literacy pioneer James Henri.
